

To whom it may concern,

The unlawful laws that were brought in end of 2013 have affected our family in many ways, from the stress, and uncertainty, to day to day activities like watching the kids sporting games or basic grocery shopping. The stress of un-intentionally running into someone you knew meant you would spend min 6 months to 3 years in jail.

This has caused a break up of our family unit, depression and the uncertainty of whether I will be able to keep my job.

Our children are now terrified of the police due to the constant drive byes and harassment, our son had nightmares for 6 months and hasn't slept on his own since, the police constantly passing past his bedroom window frightened him into thinking the police were going to get him or take his daddy away! So who are my children going to go to, if they ever need help? We brought them up respecting authority, but now it has been very hard for the children to put their trust in someone they are so frightened of.

Simple family dinners, outings are just not possible anymore, funerals, weddings, birthday parties in the park for our children are not possible without the fear of being arrested.

The presumption of "innocent until proven guilty" no longer applies to us.

These are unconstitutional and illegal laws that infringe on the basic human rights.

Yours sincerely
