<sup>i</sup> In contact with Youth Justice is defined as any young person who during the reference period was on a sentenced youth justice order (community-based or detention-based), was on a conditional bail program, had at least one overnight stay in a youth detention centre on pre-court custody, remand or sentence or in a police watchhouse or in police transit on post court remand or sentence, was subject to a pre-sentence report or had participated in a Restorative Justice Process. Young people held in a police watchhouse on pre-court custody only are excluded from the count. The actual count for the 12 months to 31 March 2024 was: Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander young offender – 1,876; Other young offenders – 1,640; All young offenders – 3,516.

<sup>ii</sup> The Serious Repeat Offender Declaration came into effect on 22 March 2023. In order to calculate the percentage of young people declared a Serious Repeat Offender in the reference period, only those young people with a proven finalised offence from the date the new legislation came into effect is used in the denominator. This means those young people who may have had a proven offence finalised in the period prior to 22 March 2023 are not included in the percentage calculation. Data on young people declared a Serious Repeat Offender are based on a manual collection. To 31 March 2024 there have been 55 declarations made among 3,309 young people with a proven offence finalised.

<sup>iii</sup> Includes young people in a youth detention centres on pre-court custody, remand, or sentence. Excludes any young people held in police watchhouses with any legal status. The actual daily average count for the 12 months to 31 March 2024 was: Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander – 201; Other – 85; Total – 286.
