FORM QRO-P13

Mental health levy final return—Designated group employer Version 3—July 2024

Payroll Tax Act 1971 (sections 64)

About this form

Designated group employers (DGEs) are required to lodge a mental health levy final return (Form P13) each time they, or a group member, has a change of status as defined in the Payroll Tax Act 1971. This form covers the period following your last mental health levy final return or annual return until the day before the relevant change of status occurs. You need to complete a separate mental health levy final return for each status change.

The mental health levy final return must be lodged within 21 days after the end of your periodic return period in which the last day of the final period occurs. For example, if you are a DGE that lodges monthly periodic returns and your group member has a change of status on 15 March 2025, you would lodge the mental health levy final return by 21 April 2025. (If you lodge half-yearly periodic returns, you would lodge the mental health levy final return by 21 July 2025).

The form has 5 parts (labelled A to E), with numbered sections to help you find the areas relevant to you.

You can complete this form at qroonline.treasury.qld.gov.au.

Your checklist

Before you begin, make sure you have the following information available:

- the total Queensland and interstate wages of all group members, including you as DGE as set out in item 3
- the total periodic levy liabilities for each group member, including you as DGE as set out in item 5.

Part B—Change of status

A change of status (section 5 of the Payroll Tax Act) happens if, during a financial year:

- you cease to be an employer and do not intend to resume being an employer during the remainder of the year or the next financial year
- you become a group member
- you cease being a member of the group
- you become the DGE for a group
- you cease being the DGE for the group
- an administrator (e.g. receiver and manager or liquidator) is appointed
- an administrator's appointment ceases to have effect.

If you undergo any of the above change of status events, you must complete a final return (Form P12) in addition to this form.

Read more about final returns and reporting a change of status at qro.qld.gov.au/payroll-tax.

1. Have you had a change of status?

If you changed status on 1 July, you do not have to complete this mental health levy final return. Instead, you must note the change of status in the prior financial year's annual return.

For a change of status on any day other than 1 July, a mental health levy final return must be lodged within 21 days after the end of your periodic return period in which the last day of the final period occurs. You must then lodge an annual return by the due date for the period from the change of status to 30 June (unless the change of status is that you ceased to be an employer).

2. Has a group member had a change of status?

If one of your group members changed status on 1 July, you do not have to complete this mental health levy final return.

For a change of status on any day other than 1 July for a group member, you must lodge a mental health levy final return within 21 days after the end of your periodic return period in which the last day of the final period occurs. You must then lodge an annual return by the due date for the period from the change of status to 30 June.

Part C—Wages

3. Group wages

Provide the total taxable wages paid (or payable) by all group members (including you as DGE) for the period of this return.

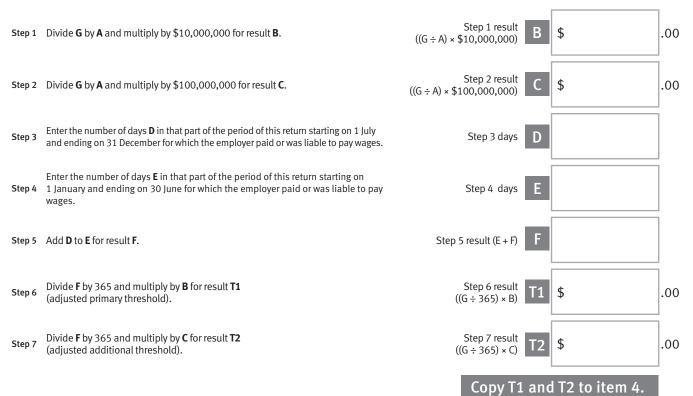

Total Queensland taxable wages for all group members (including you as DGE)	$.00 Copy G to item 4.
Total interstate wages for all group members (including you as DGE)	$].00
Total group Australian taxable wages	$.00

Part D—Levy calculation

Calculate your mental health levy amount for the period of this return.

Worksheet

Follow these steps to get the primary and additional threshold amounts that you'll use to calculate your final levy amount.

4. Mental health levy calculation

The mental health levy is the levy amount for the period of this return. It is calculated from your group's actual wages that exceed the mental health levy thresholds, before subtracting any periodic levy amounts paid or payable by you and your group members.

Use the worksheet figures to calculate your mental health levy for this period. If the result of any calculation in item 4 is negative, the amount for that calculation is zero.

Total Queensland taxable wages for all group members (including you as DGE)	G	$.00	←	Amount G from item 3
Adjusted primary threshold	T1	$.00	←	Result T1 from worksheet
Primary final levy amount (G – T1) × 0.25%	X1	$.00
Adjusted additional threshold	T2	$.00	←	Result T2 from worksheet
Additional final levy amount (G – T2) × 0.5%	X2	$.00
Final levy amount (X1 + X2)	Z	$	Cop	y Z to item 5

5. Total mental health levy (liability/credit)

Mental health levy Z	$ ←	Amount Z from item 4
Total periodic levy amounts Y	$ ←	Enter the total amount of mental health levy paid or payable by all group members (including you as DGE) for the periods covered by this return.
		Do not include any amounts allocated to unpaid tax interest (UTI).
Final liability/credit FL	$ ←	Enter the difference between Z and Y. $Z - Y$
Unpaid tax interest U	$ ←	Calculate UTI as follows: Step 1 Daily UTI amount = Final liability × UTI rate (12.36% for the 2024–25 financial year) ÷ 366 Step 2 Total UTI amount = Daily UTI amount × number of days late
Total liability/credit	$ ←	Add FL and U to calculate your total liability or refund. FL + U
