Without prejudice

If the Government is not going to immediately implement ALL the recommendation of the CCC recent report in regard to lobbyist than a major review on the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2010 is just a waste of time.

Over time the ever increasing legal challenges around the creeping tentacle coverage of the Human Rights Act 2019 will merely lead to more non-disclosure of public interest matters, more covert corruption, and further increase the fragility of civil democracy.

No whistle-blower will ever be protected under this or any legislation until such time that ALL of our political leaders and bureaucrats hold themselves fully accountable for their own actions. If this was ever to happened then there would not be a need to whistle-blow.
